

Götz Schubert und Nina Franoszek

The Indoor Fountain
(Der Zimmerspringbrunnen)
Comedy – Germany 2001

A cheerful laconic comedy of present Germany

Synopsis:

Go Trabi Go director Peter Timm returned in 2001 with Der Zimmerspringbrunnen, based on Jens Sparschuh's novel of the same name. The story revolves around Hinrich Lobek, an unemployed East German who has not been able to get his act together since the reunification. Timm's satire depicts the various caricatures of post-Cold War Germans and in so doing revives and pokes fun of the very peculiarities (like the "typical GDR coinages" from the GDR dictionary above) that Ostalgie invokes. In this way its address is thoroughly ironic and of all the post-Sonnenallee retro-films, it most nearly continues that project that Letzes aus der Da Da eR and Go Trabi Go started. [matthias frey, berlin]

DVD at amazon.de

A Great comedy and amazing actors: with Götz Schubert (Lobek), Gustav Peter Wöhler (Strüver), Simone Solga (Julia) and sexy Conny (Nina Franoszek).

N. Wehrstedt, LVZ vom: 11/29/2001

Genre: Comedy- Satire

Format: 35 mm color

Länge: 94 Minutes

Theatrical Release: 11/29/2001

Distribution: Senator Film

Director: Peter Timm

Writer: Kathrin Richter, Ralf Hertwig

Book: Jens Sparschuh

Cinematographer: Achim Poulheim

Production: Senator Film Produktion

Coproduktions Company: Relevant Film

Producer: Günter Rohrbach, Heike Wiehle-Timm

Cast:

Götz Schubert (Hinrich Lobek)

Simone Solga (Julia Lobek)

Gustav-Peter Wöhler (Uwe Strüver)

Bastian Pastewka (Thomas Hamann)

Hermann Lause (Dr. Alois Boldinger)

Christof Wackernagel (Filzbach)

Thomas Gimbel (Müller-Burkhardt)

Nina Franoszek (Conny)

